THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

Our circulation has, at the present time, almost reached the millions of dollars lying idle in its strong vat. If our creditors would permit us to pay them as we have done before, we could easily find a market in which to dispose them for cash. But our public debt is not yet mature—our creditors are not at all alarmed, and say that they would much prefer to wait until their notes are due before they are paid; they prefer the sure, and certain interest to long, and short, and the principal; and they simply refuse to be paid unless we bow them to take their money by paying an outrageous premium—or even we, rich as we are, are not afraid.—What then shall be done with them twenty-five millions? That their continuing idle is a grievous wrong, almost every one will admit. We have thought there were those who regard the vital interest of this one from the public circulation, as a much more wild and visionary speculation, and therefore to be deplored. But the greater part of our people entertain directly opposite views, and regard the collection and accumulation of all specie, not needed for many years to come, in banks and repositories remote from their employment, and a reasonable use of it, as a most serious evil. That something must be done, and that we are changing a duty we owe to our fellow-men, to suffer it to exist. It is in relation to the pending difficulty between the Dutch government and Mr. Walter M. Gibson, of those imprisonments and outrageous treatment, which we have already briefly referred to:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12, 1853.

Information has been received at this department in the absence of the Secretary of State, that Mr. Walter M. Gibson has made complaint to the minister of the United States at the Hague, of the conduct of the Dutch government in the island of Java. His statement to the Department, as set upon his statement of facts, and deemed satisfactory of the government of Holland.

I have received letters stating that Mr. Gibson is totally unworthy the protection of the government, and that its statements cannot be relied upon.

You, among many others, are named as having had business relations with him, and I desire to know whether those statements affect his character, and the reasons, if possible, for your opinions. I am, sir very truly, your obedient servant,

W. L. MARCY.

S. D. McGregor, 159, Broadway, N. Y.

REPLY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20, 1853.

To Hon. W. L. Marcy, Secretary of State:

Sir:—Yours of the 12th inst., asking for information as to the character of Walter M. Gibson, was received on the 17th inst. by express, and by reference of the Dutch consul present at Java was received yesterday.

After much consideration and some inquiry, I think I can safely say that I have never known any person of that name. It may be proper for me to state that there is a lawyer in this city named Parish (McGregor), who may have had dealings with Mr. Gibson.

I regret that I am unable to furnish the information desired, as it would be a source of much gratification to me to aid the State Department in the performance of its duties. I am, sir, with the highest consideration, your most obedient servant,

S. D. McGREGOR.

Most respectfully and truly,
Your obedient servant.

"Think of that, master Brooke!" Quite a contrast between this letter of the Honorable Secretary's and the long and elaborate document on the Know-Nothing affair by the same author. It is not addressed to the Dutch government; it is not deemed requisite for the attention of the public; it is not even signed with the ministerial dignity of the United States;" but it is written to a merchant of New York city, asking information in relation to Mr. Gibson's private character. Mr. Marcy desires to know whether Mr. Gibson is deserving of his attention, and that doubt does not consist in the question of the existence of the outrage, but in the propriety of his attempting to know "if he is a moral man." Our citizens had better hereafter attend to their morals closely, for it will, no doubt, be necessary for an American citizen to be a good standing in the community, attend church, and pay all his debts, before he can claim the protection of his government in the time when the various institutions of our land grow to maturity, the difficulty which has agitated our Nation would be avoided. The money world find its way into the natural channels of trade and commerce, and not centralize in the hands of men who use it more for speculation than legitimate purposes. We are not afraid to trust the people with their own money, and we think that the three American seamen have been suffered to rot in jail at Havana, and not a word said about them. Poor fellows! they, perhaps, are not of "good character and their statements cannot be relied upon." Oh! certainly not.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

The candidates for Governor, were Johnson, Democrat, and Jenkins, Union. In 9 counties Johnson has 1317 majority; in 4 counties Jenkins has 1093 majority. Fleming, Whig, is elected judge in the eastern district. In 29 counties Johnson have gain. The Legislature is probably Democratic. Barker, Whig Canal Commissioner, by 14,000 to 15,000 majority.

The Union Convention—The manufacturers of this wonderful meat have been extensive, and the contributions of the gang who were to get it in circulation extensive. Besides the large amount of money, the whole of the Democratic press of Ohio. Some of the Cleveland hacks took it without suspicion, and the Plaindealer says a large amount was passed in that city. Three young men, named John Lloyd, Alonzo Ellis, and Charles Connely, were arrested on a charge of passing it.

THE APPOINTMENTS AND THE POSITIVE ASSURANCES GIVEN.

It will be remembered that some months ago the United States Deputy Marshal of the State and District of Pennsylvania, with his aids, proceeded to Williamsburg for the purpose of arresting a fugitive slave belonging to a gentleman of Virginia, but being violently assailed by a number of the inhabitants of that neighborhood, and his own life endangered, he returned to Philadelphia, without accomplishing their object. The Marshal wrote to the Secretary of the Interior upon the subject, and the following is the reply of Secretary McClelland:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, Sept. 15, 1853.

SIR—Yours of the 5d instant has been received, and I have only to say in reply that you will be sustained in the discharge of your duty in the execution of the laws of the United States, and that the President of the United States will be sustained in the discharge of his duty in the execution of the laws. Any person who may resist the execution of the laws will be dealt with as the law directs. Any person who may be guilty of a violation of the laws will be punished as the law directs. Any person who may be guilty of a violation of the laws will be punished as the law directs. Any person who may be guilty of a violation of the laws will be punished as the law directs.

R. McCLELLAND, Sec.

Col. Francis M. Wynkoop, Marshal of Eastern District, Pennsylvania.

This will settle the case about Mr. McClelland's fugitive proclivities. We do not think he is troubled with any such virtues.

MISSIONARY MEETING, IN BOSTON.

Miss. Bissell's book in relation to the American missions and their social relations and institutions has been published, and contains many things which may not be very agreeable to our state-craftsmen ready as people, but from which we are sure they can learn a lesson. It is addressed to the citizens of common's rights, she says:

"What will common sensitive that, if they would consult the rights of the former. They would consult the rights of the latter, if they would consult the rights of the former. They would consult the rights of the latter, if they would consult the rights of the former. They would consult the rights of the latter
